Golf Among the Stars!

5th Annual Celebrity Athlete
Golf Benefit
for Saginaw Youth
Recreation Programs

Wednesday, July 15, 2009

HEROES FOR KIDS

Since 2005, two Saginaw natives have been teaming up to support a very important cause: youth recreation in Saginaw.

Clifton Ryan, former Michigan State co-captain, now a defensive tackle with the St. Louis Rams and LaMarr Woodley, former University of Michigan All-American defensive end, now a linebacker with the Pittsburgh Steelers, credit much of their success to the youth recreation programs that were available to them growing up. These programs were instrumental in keeping Ryan and Woodley off the streets and on the right track to academic and athletic success. Ryan and Woodley want nothing less for today's youth.

In just three short years, Heroes for Kids supporters have helped raise some $300,000 for youth recreation programs.

These funds have allowed the length of existing youth recreation programs to be extended each summer. Without this support, these programs would be forced to shorten their hours and days of operation.

And a portion of the funds raised are directed annually into an endowment for summer youth recreation at the Saginaw Community Foundation.
